Financial performance

During the 2020–2025 period, CTG's Total Operating Income (TOI) maintained positive growth, especially increasing strongly from 11.8% to 20.62% in the early stage before slowing to 6.58% in the final year due to pressure from the business environment. Both ROAA and ROEA showed clear improvement, reflecting the bank's increasing efficiency in capital utilization and asset management. EPS also rose significantly from VND 3,678 to VND 6,444, indicating stronger profitability for shareholders. At the same time, CAR increased from 8.6% to 10.3%, demonstrating a stronger capital base and better compliance with safety requirements. In contrast, NIM slightly declined to 2.62%, reflecting pressure on net interest margins. However, NPL remained well controlled at a low level of around 1%–1.26%, highlighting effective asset quality management and credit risk control.

Medium and long-term prospectus

POSITIVE OUTLOOK FOR MEDIUM TO LONG-TERM

- Diversifying sources of income – In addition to traditional lending activities, VietinBank is increasingly expanding non-interest income through services. This helps the bank reduce dependence on credit income and improve long-term profitability.
- Strong financial foundation and capital adequacy – VietinBank maintains a solid capital base and continuously strengthens its financial capacity to meet business expansion needs and regulatory requirements. This creates favorable conditions for the bank to improve competitiveness and support sustainable growth in the future.
- Large customer network and strong brand reputation – VietinBank possesses a wide customer network and strong brand recognition. This advantage helps the bank attract more customers, expand market share, and maintain stable business performance over the long term.

TIME HORIZON

SUITABLE FOR MEDIUM-TERM & LONG-TERM INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

CTG is considered a stable and sustainably growing asset in Vietnam's banking industry, making it suitable for long-term investment strategies. VietinBank has consistently maintained stable credit growth and non-interest income growth.

3 TO 5-YEAR OR LONGER STRATEGIC HORIZON

CTG (VietinBank) is often considered by investors as a key stock for balancing portfolios focused on state-owned commercial banks.

RISK TOLERANCE

MEDIUM TO HIGH RISK

CTG is a suitable stock for investors who can tolerate relatively medium to high risk and seek long-term growth opportunities.

CTG has demonstrated strong operating performance, delivering returns that significantly outperformed the VN-Index. This achievement is supported by solid fundamentals, including large asset scale, stable financial capacity, and notable improvements in business efficiency and credit growth. The bank's continuous expansion of its digital banking ecosystem and process automation has also strengthened investor confidence.

However, CTG's stock price often experiences significant fluctuations. This volatility reflects the sensitivity of banking stocks to changes in interest rates, asset quality, and overall market sentiment.
