Yeah1 Group is one of the leading digital media and entertainment companies in Vietnam, particularly recognized for producing hit reality shows, music programs, and large-scale entertainment events. The company has recently attracted significant public attention through successful programs such as Anh Trai Vượt Ngàn Chông Gai, Chị Đẹp Đạp Gió, Tân Bình Toàn Năng, and Gia Đình Haha, helping strengthen its brand recognition and audience reach.

YEG has also expanded its strategic ecosystem through partnerships with major international and domestic organizations. The company collaborates with MangoTV and has formed a joint venture with Sony Music Entertainment to promote Vietnamese music internationally. In addition, strategic sponsorship cooperation with major banks such as Techcombank and Vietcombank further enhances YEG's financial and commercial ecosystem.

Financial performance

During the 2020–2025 period, Yeah1 Group recorded highly volatile financial performance, reflecting the cyclical nature of the media and entertainment industry as well as its restructuring process. Revenue growth surged strongly in 2021 (+114.33%) but declined during 2022–2023 before recovering again in 2024–2025 (+49.47% & +34.76%), supported by the success of entertainment programs, concerts, and digital content activities.

Net Profit After Tax decreased from its peak of VND 1,499 billion in 2021 to VND 492 billion in 2023 before recovering to VND 1,342 billion in 2025, indicating improving business momentum. Meanwhile, ROEA and ROAA gradually declined from very high levels in 2021, showing pressure on profitability during the restructuring phase, although both indicators stabilized again in 2024–2025. EPS also recovered to VND 1,862/share in 2025, reflecting improving earnings generation and operational efficiency

RISK TOLERANCE

YEG stock belongs to the high-risk category, characterized by strong price volatility, high speculative nature, and relatively unstable liquidity. In addition, the company's business performance heavily depends on the media and digital advertising market, which is strongly influenced by consumer trends and overall economic conditions. Therefore, YEG is more suitable for investors with a high risk appetite who prefer short-term speculative strategies rather than long-term investment holding.

TIME HORIZON

SHORT TO MEDIUM-TERM INVESTMENT HORIZON

Operating in the media and digital advertising industry, YEG's business performance depends significantly on consumer trends and the recovery pace of the advertising market. Besides its growth potential as the digital media industry continues to expand, YEG stock also carries a highly speculative nature and often experiences sharp price fluctuations within short periods. Therefore, YEG is considered more appropriate for investors seeking profit opportunities from market movements rather than pursuing a stable long-term holding strategy.

Medium and long-term prospectus

Expansion of Entertainment Ecosystem

Yeah1 Group continues expanding its entertainment ecosystem through developing an international-standard closed-loop artist training and management model (UPRIZE) concerts, music events, and reality shows such as YConcert, Gaihome, and Anh Trai Vượt Ngàn Chông Gai Concert, creating new revenue streams from ticket sales, sponsorships, and entertainment commerce.

Growth of Digital Media and Advertising

The continued expansion of Vietnam's digital economy and online entertainment demand is expected to support long-term growth in digital advertising and content monetization activities.

Restructuring and Business Recovery

YEG continues focusing on operational restructuring, digital content development, and strategic partnerships to improve profitability and strengthen its position in Vietnam's entertainment industry.
